

What can I do as a clinician?

Clinicians have an important role in advocating for the importance of reducing health inequalities.

Learn

- > Listen to RCP podcasts on health inequalities
- > Complete the RCP e-learning on the social determinants of health

Ask

- > Ask senior colleagues about what work is taking place to reduce health inequalities in your area
- > Find out who is leading work on health inequalities

Advocate

- > Share resources with colleagues
- > Raise health inequalities as a topic in meetings
- > Make the case for tackling health inequalities, drawing on statutory duties and the moral and financial benefits

Support

- > Analyse population and health inequalities data for your specialty to inform service delivery
- > Speak to patients about the wider factors that may affect their health
- > Signpost patients to services that may help them to improve their health

