

Annual General Meeting (AGM), College Day and Annual Report

Each year the RCP holds a general meeting of fellows (known as the AGM, or Comitia). This is the formal occasion when Council and college officers report to the fellowship on their activities in the previous year, officer appointments are notified and changes to RCP bye-laws can be considered. In 2020, the AGM was held on 24 September 2020 and was a virtual meeting, due to the pandemic, with papers accessible behind the log-in on the RCP website. The RCP Annual Report is published on the RCP website and is timed so that it is available at the AGM.

Because of an Act of Parliament that sets the date of the presidential election, the election is always held on the Monday following Palm Sunday, which in 2020 was 6 April. This forms part of College Day and includes two named lectures.

In future years, you will receive notifications and papers for the AGM and College Day directly in advance, as a fellow.
